

YESTERDAY

Yesterday, the Hernandez family left the city....., Julio says.

I felt very pity when he told me this, because they always were very nice with me.

Julio says that they went, because they had a lot of difficulties here.

He didn't tell me more, because, according him, I'm not going to understand.

What are he know? I can't understand some things, but I know things that he doesn't know.

For example, yesterday, it happened some things.

First, when I went to give a croissant to Mrs. Flores, as usual she smiled me while she was drinking her coffee. I was collecting her cup, when I saw in her arm an ugly mark. The most strange was when her husband arrived....., he seemed annoying. When I told Julio this, he saw her very sad and said: "When you love a person, you must look after her". I didn't understand.

In other table, was Mohamed, a foreign person, and some people who laughed of him.

When I gave her coffee, he warded me off, as he was afraid from me.

I surprised and I took over, when I arrived to the counter, I saw him again, and people laughed of him. Why were they laughing him?

And in the last table, was Marcelino always sitting, the only customer that I can't attend, because onlu Julio attends him.

I saw them from so far away, they are always enjoying and speaking, like "good friends".

But there are times that they are very close, but they go away, Marcelino is sad and Julio is angry. Julio goes to the kitchen and close the door strongly. I don't understand. Why don't they get close each other more?

These things haven't passed since yesterday...They pass always, every day.

But today everything is changing.

I woke up very sharply. There was a nightmare.

When I get in the bar, I see Mrs. Flores with her husband, they are smiling, and Mrs. Flores there don't have any brand.

In the other table, I can see to Mohamed, like always, with her friends , they were making fun of teachers.

In the afternoon, Marcelino come to pick Julio up. They go home hold hands. Because we have rights, we are the same. Now I have to close Europa's bar. See you tomorrow

The end
